FINANCIAL SECRETARIAT

Official Memorandum dated 5th July 1948.

No. Fl. 303-90—S. & A. 202-47-2. The accompanying communications received from the Government of India regarding the drawal of leave salary or pay by officers in hard currency countries are forwarded to all Heads of Departments, Deputy Commissioners of Districts and Secretaries to Government for information and guidance.

M. SHAMANNA, Fl. Secy.

Copy of Office Memorandum No. F. 7 (23)—Est. IV-48, dated the 3rd May 1948, from the Government of India, Ministry of Finance, to all Ministries of the Government of India, etc.

Drawal of leave salary by officers in hard currency countries.

The undersigned is directed to state that, as a further measure of economy in the use of dollars, the Ministry of Finance have been obliged to withdraw altogether pleasure travel facilities to countries in the Western Hemisphere (excluding the possessions of the European colonial powers but including Canada and New Foundland) and the Phillipine Islands. Consistently with this policy decision, all Ministries of the Government of India are requested to refuse permission to their officers to spend their leave, or any portion of it, in these countries. Cases involving special hardship may be referred to this Ministry for consideration.

2. Pleasure travel facilities to the other hard currency countries, viz.,

(1) Sweden;
(2) Switzerland;
(3) Belgium and the Belgian Monetary Area,
(4) Portugal and the Portuguese Monetary Area, but excluding Portuguese India;
(5) Japan; and
(6) Germany.

have also been severely restricted, in view of the difficult exchange position that has recently developed with these countries. The present scale of allowance provides for the equivalent of £ 75 per adult and £ 35 per child once every three years for pleasure travel to these countries and is available alike to officials and non-officials. Officers desirous of spending their leave in these countries should, therefore, be warned of these exchange restrictions.

3. Leave for the remaining countries, whose currencies are regarded, for the present, as soft, may be granted without regard to exchange considerations.

Copy of letter No. F. 6 (5)—Est. II-48, dated the 5th May 1948, from the Government of India, Ministry of Finance, to the Chief Secretary to all Provincial Governments.

Restrictions on the drawal of pay in hard currencies by officers deputed abroad.

I have the honour to state that, in view of the acute foreign exchange position that faces the country in respect of certain currencies, the Government of India have decided that Government officials deputed abroad to the following countries, technically known as hard currency countries, whether as members of Delegations or otherwise, should not be permitted to draw more than 50 per cent of their gross pay as defined in Fundamental Rule 9 (21) (a) and as admissible under those rules in the currencies of those countries, subject to a minimum of the equivalent of Rs. 1,000 a month. The period for which the pay may be so drawn in foreign currencies will be strictly related to the period of the deputation in the countries concerned, the balance of the pay being drawn in rupees in India. It follows that no advances may be drawn by officers deputed to the following countries in foreign currencies recoverable in rupees in India, since the grant of such advances would involve an unwarranted foreign exchange liability.

(1) All countries in the Western Hemisphere (excluding the possessions of the European Powers but including Canada and New Foundland) and the Philippine Islands.
(2) Sweden
(3) Switzerland
(4) Belgium and her possessions.
(5) Portugal and her possessions (except Portuguese India).
(6) Japan.

The above restriction does not apply to the drawal of local allowances, e. g., daily allowance and travelling allowance, which may be drawn in full under the ordinary regulations.

I am to request that the Provincial Governments may kindly ensure that this restriction is invariably enforced in the case of deputations sanctioned by them.

If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case, the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II (1) (i) to II (1) (iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column 3] against these items. If any lumpsum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

PART (C)

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the output should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. If the factory carries on any merchanting trade, (i. e., sale of goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process, but merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received), persons engaged in that part of the business should also be excluded.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men', 'women', 'boys', and 'girls' under "Workers" should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls', respectively.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all

* If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

† State here whether; "higher than", "equal to" or "lower than", as the case may be.

‡ Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus) (as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'Total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side headings 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'— was not employed during the year the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D) and used as fuel—see footnote to items 268 to 270 in the table below] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to the sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item V):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns, (4) (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and resold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VII in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PART (F)

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table below should be stated the total quantity of each product and by-product made in the year, irrespective of whether any portion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the manufacture of other articles.

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) of table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV. 1 of the table.

(3) If deductions specified in paragraph (c) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (5). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (5) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV 2).—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (c) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (5) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All others (value only)" item 316 of the table.

(e) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(f) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work, less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(g) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (5) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (5) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (5) should not be left blank.

(h) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II (1) (i) to II (1) (iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column (3)] against these items. If any lumpsum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation prescribed under Section 10 (2) (vi) of the Mysore Income-tax Act, 1923.

If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table should be stated the total quantity of each product-and-by-product made in the year, irrespective of whether any protion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the production of more finished articles. Ingots found to be defective and sent back to the furnace without undergoing any treatment should be excluded.

*If it is known that any quantity of a material was either indigenous or imported, entries in respect of that quantity should be made in columns (3) and (4) or columns (5) and (6), as the case may be. With regard to any quantity of a material about which it

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in thatyear or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from thebooks of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling valu of value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (5). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (c) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (c) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (5) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(d) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" item 48 (h) under item "I. Products" of the table.

(e) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(f) Work done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them item III in the table.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(g) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (5) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (5) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (5) should not be left blank.

(h) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER '19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the output should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. If the factory carries on any merchanting trade (i.e., sale of goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received), persons engaged in that part of the business should also be excluded.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' under "Workers" should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls', respectively.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all

*If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

†State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to' or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against

working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) ''Worker'' means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) ''Persons other than workers'' should include all employees not covered by the term ''worker'' as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(h) ''Child'' means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an ''adult'' under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to ''workers'' employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of ''workers''—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. If any electricity generated or coal gas produced is sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns not covered by this return, such electricity or coal gas should be regarded as a product and its ex-factory net selling value should be included in Part (F).

MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 . IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI):—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b)(1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item VII in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of material listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Total quantity made in the year.—Under this heading in column (3) of the table below should be stated total quantity of each product and by-product made in the year, irrespective of whether any portion of that quantity was sold, added to stock without further processing or was used in the factory for the production of more finished articles. The same goods should not be entered more than once under a single item specified in column (1) of the table, e.g., if steel blooms are re-rolled into steel billets in the factory only the output in the form of steel billets should be taken into account. Ingots found to be defective and sent back to the furnace without undergoing any treatment should be excluded.

(b) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In columns (4) and (5) of the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other

* If it is known that any quantity of a material was either indigenous or imported, entries in respect of that packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(c) Ex-factory net selling value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other packing and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) Any excise duty paid on any product or by-product should also not be included in determining the ex-factory net selling value of the quantity of that product and by-product made in the year of return for sale. Particulars relating to the name and quantity of the product and by-product on which excise duty was paid and the amount of excise duty paid during the year of return should be stated in the space provided for the purpose under item IV. 1 of the table.

If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all praticulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(c) "Value" in all the headings specified under item "II Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II (1) (i) to II (1) (iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [column 3] against these items. If any lumpsum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employee person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes; but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'— was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this part.

(a) Fuel, electricity, etc., consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each item of fuel, of electricity and of other specified items consumed during the year. Only fuel, electricity, etc., which was purchased whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Fuel, electricity, etc., produced in the factory should not be included. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the cost.

(c) Electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory, if consumed in the factory, should not be included. MATERIALS PURCHASED AT ANY TIME AND CONSUMED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 , IN THE MANUFACTURE OF PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE FOR SALE AND WORK GIVEN OUT DURING THE SAME YEAR.

Instructions for filling up this part.

(a) Materials consumed in the year.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and purchase value of each material [other than those specified in Part (D)] consumed during the year in the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale [as shown in Part (F)]. The table should cover all consumable stores. Only materials which were purchased, whether during the year or earlier, should be included. Materials made in the factory should not be included. If the amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory it should be noted that the amounts should cover actual purchases of each material effected during the year plus stocks at the beginning of the year and less stocks at the end. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. Purchases made during the year should include materials acquired from allied concerns. The purchase value of such transactions should be taken as equal to the value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Purchase value.—

(1) For the purpose of determining the purchase value of the quantity of each material consumed during the year for the manufacture of products and by-products made for sale, the purchase value of the quantity of material purchased during the year should be taken as equal to the cost of the material landed at the factory, i.e., any expenses incurred in transporting the material to the factory should be added to the payment made to the seller, of the material unless transport was carried out by the factory's own staff. If any duty was paid by the factory, it should also be added to the amount paid to the seller.

(2) If additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) to the amount paid to sellers are not available separately for each material, the amount paid to the sellers may be included in the figure of purchase value entered in columns (4), (6) and (8). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of these columns that the additions specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item VI) :—

(i) Names of items which should be added [see paragraph (b) (1) above] to the amount paid to sellers in order to arrive at the purchase value and which are not included in the value as entered, and

(ii) the total amount which should be added to the value of materials as entered in each of the columns (4), (6) and (8) in order to arrive at the purchase value.

(c) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table.

(d) Work given out to other firms or factories (item V in the table).—The total amount paid to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them plus transport and any other charges incurred on these goods should be shown against this item.

(e) If a material listed in column (1) was not consumed by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) to (8) should not be left blank against any item of materials listed in column (1). Similarly, if no payment was made to other firms or factories for work done on materials given out to them (item V in the table), the entry against this item should be 'nil'. The space against this item also should not be left blank.

(f) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each material and purchase value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the output should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. (b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men', 'women', 'boys', and 'girls' and 'workers' should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls', respectively.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) ''Worker'' means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) ''Persons other than workers'' should include all employees not covered by the term ''worker'' as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) ''Adult'' means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an ''adult'' under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(h) ''Child'' means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an ''adult'' under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(i) Particulars relating to ''workers'' employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to ''workers'' employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side headings 'Employed through contractors' should be ''not available'' in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of ''workers''—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'— was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made, and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV) :—

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). (c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by badli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5) separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or any in other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side-heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers" —'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the out-put as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the out-put should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. (ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men,' 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' under "Workers" should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls', respectively.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all

The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the debit items should be items like amounts due for goods supplied to the working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) ''Worker'' means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) ''Persons other than workers'' should include all employees not covered by the term ''worker'' as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) ''Adult'' means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an ''adult'' under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(h) ''Child'' means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an ''adult'' under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(i) Particulars relating to ''workers'' employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to ''workers'' employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side heading 'Employed through contractors' should be ''not available'' in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of ''workers''—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) All particulars in this Part should be given as on the 31st December 19 . If the accounts of the factory are not closed on that date and if it is inconvenient to work out the figures as on that date, all particulars may be given as on the date on which the accounts of the factory were last closed. In either case the date to which the particulars refer and the accounting year of the factory should be clearly stated in the space provided at the top of the table in items (1) and (2).

(b) If the factory is owned by a firm which also owns other factories or carries on other business, the paid-up capital in respect of the factory for which this return is made, should be arrived at by reasonable allocation between the different undertakings carried on by the firm.

(c) 'Value' in all the headings specified under item "II. Productive capital employed" should be taken to mean value according to the books of the factory on the date to which the particulars furnished in this Part relate. For items of fixed capital this will invariably be the original cost plus the cost of improvements made and less amount written off. If the factory occupies only a portion of any building or any piece of land, particulars relating to only that portion should be included in the table. If any item of fixed capital [items II (1) (i) to II (1) (iii)] has been leased or rented, the rent paid should be shown separately in the column provided for this purpose [Column (3)] against these items. If any lumpsum consideration was originally paid for securing the lease or for renting the item of fixed capital in question, the present book value of the amount originally paid should be included in the amount to be entered in column (2) against the appropriate heading.

(d) It should be clearly indicated in item (3) at the top of the table whether book value of fixed capital items as entered in the table has been arrived at by writing off depreciation in respect of the year immediately preceding the date to which the particulars relate at a rate higher than, equal to or lower than the rate of depreciation pre-

PART (C)

PERSONS EMPLOYED, SALARIES AND WAGES PAID AND OTHER CONTRIBUTIONS MADE TO EMPLOYEES DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Particulars in the table below should relate to employees engaged in work connected directly or indirectly with the manufacture of the output as shown in Part (F). All administrative, technical and clerical staff should be included. Employees engaged in effecting delivery of the output should also be included, but persons employed in any retail sales organization maintained by the factory should be excluded. If the factory carries on any merchanting trade (i.e., sale of goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received), persons engaged in that part of the business should also be excluded.

(b) (i) The total number of man-hours worked during the year should be obtained by adding the total number of man-hours worked on each day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory. The total number of man-hours worked on any day on which the manufacturing processes were carried on in the factory should be obtained by multiplying the total attendances during each shift by the number of hours that shift was worked and adding the product so obtained for all shifts worked on that day.

(ii) Entries in column (2) against each of the side-headings 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' under "Workers" should be worked out in the manner described in paragraph (b) (i), but based on the attendances of 'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls' respectively.

(c) The average number of persons employed per day [column (3)] should be worked out by dividing the aggregate total attendances on all working days by the total number of working days during the year. In reckoning attendances, attendances by budli or substitution and temporary as well as permanent employees should be counted. Total attendances should be arrived at by taking the aggregate of daily attendances in respect of all

* If the accounts of the factory are closed more than once in an accounting year, all the dates on which they are closed should be given here; for example, if accounts are closed six-monthly, the dates of both six-monthly closings should be given.

† State here whether 'higher than', 'equal to', or 'lower than', as the case may be.

‡ Under this heading should be included all other items of working capital, as, for example, (a) cash in hand and at banks, (b) stocks of partly finished products, (c) net balance (plus or minus as the case may be) obtained after deducting the total of credit items from the total of debit items. The credit items should be items like debts due to the factory, advances by the factory against goods or to employees, bills of exchange payable to the factory and the working days. Absence for hours only need not be considered. Total attendances on any day should be the total of the attendances on each shift worked during that day. Days on which the factory was closed for whatever cause and days on which the manufacturing processes were not carried on should not be treated as working days.

(d) Entries in column (4) should include salaries and wages, cost of living or dearness allowances, overtime earnings and other additional payments. For the purpose of entries in this column no deductions from salaries and wages should be made except in respect of deductions, if any, on account of fines, absence from duty or for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to the employed person for custody or for loss of money which he is required to account for, where such damage or loss is directly attributable to his neglect or default.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

(g) "Adult" means a person who has completed the seventeenth year of age. The expression includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has been certified to be an "adult" under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(h) "Child" means a person who has not completed the fifteenth year of age and includes any person who has completed the fifteenth but not the seventeenth year of age and has not been certified to be an "adult" under the Mysore Factories Act, 1936.

(i) Particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors should be entered as far as they are available with the person submitting the return. If no particulars relating to "workers" employed through contractors are available, the entries against the side heading 'Employed through contractors' should be "not available" in the relevant columns.

(j) If any class of "workers"—'men', 'women', 'boys' and 'girls'—was not employed during the year, the entry against that class of workers in columns (2) to (5) should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (2) to (5) should not be left blank against any side-heading. Figures in columns (4) and (5) should be entered to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—In the table below should be stated the quantity and ex-factory net selling value of each product and by-product made in the year of return for sale whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales of each product and by-product effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other packing). The weight of packing materials should not, however, be included in the figures of weight of products and by-products. Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

* If it is known that any quantity of a material wass either indigenous or imported, entries in respect of that quantity should be made in columns (3) and (4) or columns (5) and (6), as the case may be. With regard to any quantity of a material about which it is not known whether it was indigenous or imported, entries should be made in

Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(2) If deductions specified in paragraph (b) (1) from the amount charged to customers are not available separately for each product and by-product, the amount charged to customers may be included in the figure of value entered in column (4). If this procedure is adopted, (a) it should be clearly stated at the top of column (4) that deductions from the amount charged to customers specified in paragraph (b) (1) have not been made and (b) the following information must be furnished in the space provided for the purpose at the bottom of the table (item IV):—

(i) Names of items which should be deducted [see paragraph (b) (1) above] from the amount charged to customers in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value and which are included in the value as entered, and

(ii) The total amount which should be deducted from the value of products and by-products as entered in column (4) in order to arrive at the ex-factory net selling value.

(c) Electricity generated and coal gas produced at the factory and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should bei ncluded in the entry against the heading "All other products (value only)" under item "I. Products" of the table.

(d) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the table below.

(e) Work done for other firms or customers on material supplied by them.—The total amount received for the work less (i) discount or rebates and other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards should be shown against this item.

(f) If a product or by-product listed in column (1) was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be 'nil'. Spaces in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product or by-product listed in column (1). Similarly, if no work was done for other firms or customers on materials supplied by them (item III in the table), the entry against this item in column (4) should be 'nil'. The space against this item also in column (4) should not be left blank.

(g) Quantity should be stated to the nearest unit specified for each product and by-product and value should be stated to the nearest rupee. Fractions should be omitted.

(e) If for the purpose of entries in column (5), separate figures for each of the side headings in column (1) are not available, the total money value of the privileges, benefits or contributions may be entered in the space provided for 'Total'. The items of privileges or benefits or contributions included should be specified at the top of column (5).

(f) (i) "Worker" means a person employed for wages in any manufacturing processes or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for the manufacturing processes, or in any other kind of work whatsoever incidental to or connected with the manufacturing processes or connected with the subject of the manufacturing processes, but does not include any person solely employed in clerical capacity in any room or place where no manufacturing process is being carried on [see also paragraph (a) above].

(ii) "Persons other than workers" should include all employees not covered by the term "worker" as defined in paragraph (f) (i), including clerical, administrative and technical staff, whether working in the factory premises or any other place and whose salaries and wages are debitable to the factory's account [see also paragraph (a) above].

PRODUCTS AND BY-PRODUCTS MADE AND WORK DONE DURING THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 19 .

Instructions for filling up this Part.

(a) Products and by-products made in the year for sale.—Against item 1 of Table I should be stated the ex-factory net selling value of all products (including products made against specific orders) and of all by-products and waste products made in the year of return for sale whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. Similarly, in Table II should be stated the quantity (including the quantity made against specific orders) and ex-factory net selling value of each product specified in that table made in the year of return for sale, whether sold in that year or held in stock for sale during a subsequent period. If these amounts are not directly available from the books of the factory, it should be noted that the amounts should cover the actual sales effected in the year plus stocks at the end of the year and less stocks at the beginning. The value of stocks at the beginning and at the end of the year should be taken at the book value. The ex-factory net selling value should include cost of packing materials used (except the cost of returnable cases or other returnable packing). Sales effected during the year should include any transfers of products and by-products made to allied concerns and credit for whose value was secured by book adjustment. Ex-factory net selling value of such transactions should be taken as equal to value entered in the books of the factory in respect of which this return is made.

(b) Ex-factory net selling value.—For the purpose of determining the ex-factory net selling value, the value of sales to be taken into account should be the amount charged to customers less (i) discounts or rebates, allowances for returnable cases or other returnable packing, and any other drawbacks allowed to customers, and (ii) payments to transport firms, railways, etc., for carriage outwards. Charges made for delivery when delivery is carried out by the factory's own staff should not be deducted.

(c) Work in progress at the end and at the beginning of the year (items 4 and 6 of table I).—For the purpose of determining the total output attributable to the year covered by this return, account must be taken of the value of work in progress at the end and at the beginning of that year. In both cases the value should be estimated on the basis of materials or parts used or worked up in the construction of plant and machinery, cost of labour expended on them, together with due allowance for general charges and profits.

(d) While Table I should cover all output of the factory, building or structural construction work undertaken outside the factory premises should be excluded from the value figures furnished in that table.

(e) Electricity generated and coal gas produced and sold.—Any electricity generated or coal gas produced at the factory and sold to any person or transferred to allied concerns should be regarded as a product and should be included in the entry against item 1 in Table I.

(f) Exclusion of merchanted goods.—Particulars relating to goods which were not subjected to any manufacturing process but were merely bought and re-sold in the same condition as received, should be excluded from the tables.

(g) If no income accrues to the factory under any of the heads listed in Table I, the entry against that head should be "nil". Space against any head of that table should not be left blank. Similarly, if a product listed in column (1) of Table II was not made by the factory, the entry against it should be "nil". Space in columns (3) and (4) should not be left blank against any item of product listed in column (1) of Table II.

GENERAL SECRETARIAT

Dated 3rd July 1948.

No. S.R. 37—L.W. 13-47-38. Under Section 12 (4) of the Mysore Labour Act, XIII of 1942, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to publish for general information the accompanying report of the Chief Conciliator in Mysore, Bangalore, in respect of the failure of Conciliation proceedings in the dispute between the Labour Association of the Mysore Chemicals and Fertilisers, Ltd., Belagula, and the concerned Works Management in regard to the eight notices of change dated 26th February 1948 given by the said Labour Association urging certain demands as mentioned in the report.

MOHAMED ISMAIL SHERIFF, Gl. Secy.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF CONCILIATOR IN MYSORE, BANGALORE.

Dated the 20th May 1948

No. C. C. 24-31—47.
Encl.

To
The Secretary to the Government of
H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore,
General Department, Bangalore.

Sir,

[illegible] makes the following report under

Association, Belagula, to the General Manager, the Mysort Chemicals and Fertilisers, Ltd., Belagula. The Managemene were not agreeable to concede the demands set forth in the notices of change and in the negotiations which followed, the Assistant Commissioner of Labour, Mysore Division, failed to bring about a settlement. Thereupon these disputes were referred to this office for initiating conciliation proceedings under Section 10(3) of the Labour Act.

I met the parties at Mysore on the 17th and 18th May 1948 and attempted to bring about a conciliation on the several points in the dispute. Dr. K. L. Ramaswami, General Manager, appeared on behalf of the Management, while the Labour Association was represented by the Vice-President Sri A. Subrahmanya Iyer, Secretary Sri H. C. Krishna Iyengar, and Assistant Secretary Sri R. S. Nivas, Sri H. Gopalaraj Urs, Gazetted Labour Probationer, were present on behalf of the Labour Department.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. I.

Demand No. 1.—Sufficient number of latrines and urinals of the prescribed standard shall be provided for male and female workers separately at convenient places and be kept in a clean and sanitary condition during the working hours.

Demand No. 2.—(1) Every adult or child, before employment in the Factory, shall be subjected to medical examination by the prescribed medical authority and a copy of report of such examination be sent to the Association.

(2) Every employee shall be examined as above at least four times in every year and a copy of the report of such examination be sent to the Association.

(3) Every employee shall be subjected to a similar examination while leaving the services of the company of his own accord or otherwise and a copy of report of such examination be sent to the Association.

Re. Latrines and Lavatories.—At present there are two urinals, one flush latrine and one ordinary latrine. The demand is that there should be two more urinals and two more flush latrines. The Association accused the Management of indifference. It was pointed out that although the notices of change had been given several months ago no positive steps had been taken by the Manager to carry out this obligatory duty. The General Manager stated that after the receipt of the notice he had obtained estimates and plans prepared and got them approved by the Sanitary authorities, that he would get the Board's approval at the next meeting and try his utmost to put up the structures within two months thereafter. The Association was not willing to give more than one month's time from now. The General Manager stated that in the absence of the Board's sanction and due to the unavailability of cement, sanitary equipment, etc., it was impossible for him to enter into a definite commitment re the date of completion. [illegible] willing to place the estimated cost at the Demand No. 2—(Medical Examination).—The Management had just now instituted a half-yearly examination of every employee by the Works' Doctor. This experiment had to be tried for some time more with a view to see if quarterly examinations were feasible. He had no objection to furnish copies of medical report to the Association if the individuals concerned made a request to that effect. The Association pointed out that their demand was based on the resolution passed unanimously at one of its meetings and that the resolution was binding on every employee. The General Manager however brought to notice that subsequent to the meeting some of the employees came to him privately and warned him against his furnishing medical reports about them to the Association. The Vice-President of the Association disputed the correctness of this statement. I pointed out that medical reports were generally regarded as confidential documents which could not be furnished even to the Association, if any member of it objected. The Vice-President stated that he was unable to agree with this view. As regards compelling employees to undergo medical examination before discharge, the General Manager stated that he had no legal power to enforce such examination, or withold payment of arrears in the absence of such examination. I pointed out that this was a legal question on which the Association would do well to consult a competent Lawyer. The Association however took the view that the Management could enforce such examination if only they made up their mind. The General Manager was unable to accept this contention.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. II.

The memo dated 6th February 1948 showing a list of persons who held positions of supervision for management or employed in a confidential position was not in order. Most of the employees mentioned in that list did not come within the purview of Section 43 of the Mysore Factories Act and Rules 105 and 106 thereunder. The list should therefore be withdrawn forthwith.

The list contained names of more than eighty employees. According to the Association only thirteen persons in that list satisfied the requirements of Section 43 and the rest were governed by Section 47. By including a much larger number the Management were denying overtime allowance to a large number of people who were entitled to the same under the Factories Act. The Association was not consulted when the list was prepared. Mr. Ramaswami contended that the classification had been correctly made and that the list had been published with the approval of the Chief Inspector of Factories.

The present deadlock was not likely to end unless the Government directed the Chief Inspector to scrutinise the list once again, hear both the parties and make such changes in the list as might be needed.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. III.

The Management shall give a yearly bonus of 40 per cent of the net profits of the factory to be distributed, equally among all the employees for each year of service, commencing from the year 1947-48.

NOTE 1. Service includes all kinds of leave availed of during the year for which bonus is calculated.
2. Employees who have served a month and multiples thereof are entitled to the payment of bonus proportionately.
3. Every employee should be paid a minimum sum of Rs. 100 as bonus for each year of service.

In explaining the demand, Sri Subrahmanya Iyer stated that the payment of Rs. 100 for each year of service was independent of the question whether the factory made a profit or not. The Management were frankly unable to concede the demand until after the year's working become definitely known. Mr. Ramaswami added that it was impossible to agree to pay anything as bonus when there was no net profit in any year.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. IV.

The Management should grant Rs. 30 per mensem to every employee as Dearness Allowance from 1st January 1948 irrespective of the cadre in which he is employed.

Sri Ramaswami stated that the scale now paid was the same as that paid to Government employees and that he was that the employees of the Chemical Industries should not for this purpose be clubbed with workers in other industrial concerns, such as textile mills, etc., and that it was essential that the workers in a Chemical Factory whose life was shortened by the poisonous atmosphere in which they worked should get a minimum allowance of Rs. 30 in these days of mounting food costs. Sri Ramaswami was unable to accept this demand.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. V.

The monthly emoluments now paid to the employees in the Mysore Chemicals and Fertilisers are utterly inadequate. The Management should give them 50 per cent more than the Pay Commission's recommendations. The present preferential treatment shown to clerks should cease.

I pointed out to the Association that their demand was indefinite in that it did not state what the Pay Commission had recommended in the case of employees in a Chemical Factory. Sri Subrahmanya Iyer stated that the demand was a general one and that if the Management showed any disposition to consider the request he would furnish all the requisite details in no time. Sri Ramaswami denied the charge of favouritism in the case of clerical staff. The Management was unable to consider any request for enhanced emoluments in the present financial condition of the factory.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. VI.

The Management were not following any definite principles in the matter of promotions and increments to their employees. The present practice of recruiting fresh men for some technical posts by prescribing certain qualifications was quite unjust as there were already among the employees several experienced and competent men fit to be promoted to those posts. This practice amounted to victimisation and must be stopped forthwith.

By way of illustration Sri Subrahmanya Iyer took the case of junior operators and testors. The latter were really doing more responsible work, though they were getting less salary than junior operators. The Management had recruited a number of fresh hands as junior operators by prescribing a pass in Senior Intermediate—an innovation which had detrimentally affected the interests of many testors who were otherwise fully competent to occupy those posts. Sri Ramaswami stated that the Management believed that a certain proportion of the junior operators should be Senior Intermediate men. He was not agreeable to reserve all these posts for the testors already in service.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. VII.

The Management should deduct the monthly subscription of the members of the Association in their monthly salary bills and credit the same to the current account of the Association with the Mysore Bank. Sri Ramaswami was agreeable to adopt this course provided every employee who was a member of the Association gave his consent in writing. The Association however insisted that no such individual consent was necessary and that the resolution of the Association must be treated as sufficient authority to make the deduction. I told the representatives of the Association that this was again a legal question on which they would do well to take legal opinion and that so far as I could see the Management would not be in order in effecting the deduction without individual consent. Sri Subrahmanya Iyer however did not welcome this suggestion.

NOTICE OF CHANGE NO. VIII.

Demand No. 1.—(1) The Management should start contributing its quota to the Provident Fund from the date the employee's contribution commences.

(2) When an employee closes his Provident Fund account after three years service the Management should pay a sum equal to the amount which he has contributed to the fund. At present the Management's contribution commences only one year after the employee begins to contribute to the fund. It is limited to 25 per cent when the employee period of service does not exceed three years. It rises by a graduated scale till it equals the employee's contribution when the period of service reaches 10 years.

Sri Ramaswami stated that the M

Demand No. 2.—The employees working in the Mysore Chemicals and Fertilisers canteen should be deemed to be employees of the factory.

Sri Ramaswami stated that it was not possible to comply with this demand as the Management were not running the canteen themselves. It had been entrusted to a contractor who would take away his employees when his contract terminated. The Management had no hold on the contractor's employees. The argument of the Association was that the Management themselves should run the canteen in the interest of the employees. Sri Ramaswami was unable to accept this proposition.

Demand No. 3.—The Management should give a clothing allowance of Rs. 5 per mensem to each employee.

Sri Ramaswami stated that the question of supplying stitched clothing once a year to the employees of the Works was under the consideration of the Management. The Association contended that the tastes of the individuals differed and that it was opposed to the supply of the stitched clothing of a uniform pattern to all the employees. Sri Ramaswami however pleaded his inability to add anything to what he had already stated.

Demand No. 4.—The employees coming from Belavadi Village should be paid conveyance charges at the usual rates.

Sri Ramaswami stated that the assumption of the Association that this village was five miles from the Works was not correct, that two Executive Engineers had certified the distance to be 3¾ miles only and that under the rules employees coming from less than five miles were not entitled to travelling expenses. He added that the existing arrangement was the result of prolonged negotiations between the Management and the employees. The Management was not prepared to reopen the question.

Demand No. 5.—The practice of supplying coffee to night workers had been stopped without notice. The Management should issue immediate orders for the supply of hot coffee with biscuits to all employees working on the midnight shifts.

Sri Ramaswami stated that the practice of supplying coffee to night workers was tried as an experimental measure for some time. The experiment was not a success, and the work in the factory showed no improvement. The supply had therefore been stopped. It was not likely that the Management would revive the practice. The Association complained bitterly about the unsympathetic attitude of the Management even with regard to such a small matter as serving hot coffee to workers who were compelled to keep awake during sleeping hours.

This concludes the catalogue of Demands of the Labour Association. From the beginning it was clear to me that the cleavage between the Management and the employees was too deep to be bridged. There was an atmosphere of hostility and distrust which any amount of pursuasion on my part was unable to dispel. I could see that any attempt at reconciliation in the present temper of the employees and the attitude of the Management was bound to result in failure. I talked to them about the changed conditions, the new Labour Legislation on the anvil making the employees partners with the employers in all industrial concerns and the recent tripartite Conferences held both at Delhi and at Bangalore to bring about an industrial truce in an earnest—attempt to increase the production in the country. I am afraid that my exhortation in this respect made little or no impression on the parties to the dispute. I am accordingly reporting failure of the conciliation proceedings under Section 12 (4) of the Act.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
K. SUBBA RAO, Chief Conciliator.
